

GET A BETTER JOB!

Central Peterborough's Publisher Beats Credit Crunch

Business to business weekly magazine publisher, Focus Business Media is recruiting for their successful magazines.

The company's magazines target the commercial vehicle market for advertising and benefits from an industry that has not felt the same squeeze that financial organisations are under.

A private company, now in its thirteenth year, Focus has a strong reputation in their market and is looking to capitalise on its strengths and invest in people for the future.

The company is attending the 'Get a Better Job' day at Peterborough's Holiday Inn and the Focus team is confident that they can attract the right kind of candidate to join the winning team.

Basic Salary & Uncapped Commission

Focus offers a good basic salary and an excellent commission package that rewards over achievers. Newly starting, junior staff should be aiming for £17500 per annum with our higher earners taking home more than £30,000.

What They Say

Rebecca has worked at Focus since she was seventeen years old. Now at the ripe old age of 25, she has progressed to the position of Team Leader for Van Finder Magazine.

Working part-time hours she is still able to more than double her target most weeks earning plenty of money to pay her bills, indulge her daughter and her shopping habit.

"Before working at Focus I worked selling kitchen appointments in the evenings. This job is miles apart from that type of selling - it is 9 to 5 and we only target business people who really should be interested in what we have to tell them as it will improve the performance of their business!"

She continues, "you have to work hard, but the rewards are there to be earned. If you don't make any calls you won't make any sales!"

CENTRAL LOCATION

Based in central Peterborough, on Bridge Street, Focus is well served by bus, train, cycle and road links. Near Asda, Subway and Fratellis, there are no long lunchtime treks to find something to eat!

Bored Working from a script?

Is the computer screen dominating your working life?

If you are working in a call centre and every day feels exactly the same we could be just what you are looking for.

Every call you make is different as there is no script to work to - computers don't rule our life - we won't even have one on our desks!

We have the authority to make and close a deal - there's nothing better than negotiating a deal and putting a sale on the board knowing it was all your own work.
